

Dear Pygora class,

How are you all? Well done to those of you who have produced some great work, and have sent it to me through Purple Mash. It's great to see that you've stayed busy, have kept your brain active and enjoyed producing these bits of work. Please remember to check your Purple Mash accounts as I have emailed some of you I haven't heard from and am waiting for replies.

This week our 'Pupil of the Week' was.....Maelie! Well done Maelie, you go it for an excellent piece of diary writing you submitted through Purple Mash. I was very impressed with it!

This week I spoke with a few of you, while chatting to Dylan finding out what he's been up to he told me about the Lego version he built of his house. It sounded awesome but when I saw it I was blown away! It's so detailed (I mean it even has a poo in the toilet!) but it really made me smile to see something so brilliant being created.

There's still some time left to participate in the drawings for Mrs de Roeck's friend, Ben Hasler (freelance illustrator and web designer) He has drawn these to say thank you to the NHS staff who are working so hard to help people.

If you want to do one but haven't got round to it yet then make sure you have a go this week. Then send them to aderoeck@goatlees.kent.sch.uk and Mrs de Roeck will pass them into Ben. The entries will be displayed on our website, on our Facebook page and feature on Ben's Instagram page. <https://instagram.com/sler14?igshid=jrcbepb60jom>

This week please make sure you are doing some work every day, either your home learning packs, the Purple Mash activities, some spellings and reading. I have seen a rise in the number of you completing work on Purple Mash but it's still only a few of you so I'm hoping the rest of you have been getting on with some other work, or are going to start completing some online pieces too please. Make sure you're practising those times tables too (all of them, from 2s to 12s).

I know I've said it every week so I'm hoping you've taken it on board and tried this but please remember to try and help out around the house. A few of you have told me about jobs that you've taken on, or what you've been doing to help! Let's keep this up. Looking forward to hearing from you later this week!

Stay safe everyone, be kind and look after each other.

Love Mr Harlow, Mrs Farrar and Mrs Neall
